DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is responsive to the communication filed on October 18, 2007. Claims 6-11 are pending. Claims 1-5 are canceled by the applicant. At this time, claims 6-11 are rejected.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 6-11 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

3. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

4. Claims 6-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

a. Referring to claims 6-11:

Claim 9 recites "a computer implemented utility for detecting vulnerabilities in a pre-existing source code listing, said source code listing having a listed sequence of expressions, each expression including a set of operands and operators to transform values of the operands, said source code listing further having routine calls, said routine calls including arguments with which to invoke a routine, wherein a privilege escalation vulnerability is an uncontrolled escalation of system privileges that allows unauthorized access to system resources, said utility comprising a computer-readable medium." This claim is clearly directed toward a software program and they are non-statutory as not being tangibly embodied in a manner so as to be executable. Furthermore, Figure 13 and paragraph 0010 of the specification clearly disclose the computer programs being analyzing to detect the vulnerabilities such as buffer overflow, race conditions and privilege escalation. Therefore, claim 9 recites a non-statutory subject matter.

Claim 6 is a method claim which is implemented by claim 9, the evidence of non-statutory, thus it is rejected with the same rationale applied against claim 9 above.

Claims 7-8 and 10-11 are depended on claims 6 and 9 respectively, thus they are rejected with the same rationale applied against claims 6 and 9 above.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
